Application No. 09/178,126

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicants arguments are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the overlying element (47) is in fact part of element (32). Examiner agrees that the overlying element (47) appears to be part of element (32). However, Examiner clarifies that only the portion overlying (47), near orifice (42), is considered part of the inner tube, and the remainder of tube at (32) is considered part of the outer tube. The examiner points out that only the portion overlying (47) that is near orifice (42), that is, abutts element (33), is considered part of the inner tube, and is not considered part of the outer tube. No recitations in Applicant's claims preclude this interpretation.
